

Police bust up underage drinking party at Farmington home

(Farmington-WTNH, Oct. 30, 2006 4:50 PM) _ Seven Farmington teens are in trouble tonight, accused of drinking at a weekend house party.

It's the second time this year police have been called to the home on Thatcher Terrace to investigate underage kids and booze.

18-year-old Joseph Bracone has been cited for hosting the party.

No adults were home at the time but police are still trying to determine if Bracone's parents knew about the party.

Content © Copyright 2000 - 2006 WorldNow, WTNH, and Associated Press. All Rights Reserved.

This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.

For more information on this site, please read our Privacy Policy and Terms of Service.